Rules

- This mega event will be hosted at CODECHEF (A Directi Educational Initiative).
- So, all the participants are requested to register on the hosting website www.codechef.com prior to the commencement of the contest. All the participants also have to be registered on www.infotsav.org with the same codechef handle to be eligible for the prizes.
- Permitted languages to provide solution are C, C++ and Java.
- Only students who are studying in graduate and post-graduate level in any Indian university are eligible for the prizes. Professionals can participate but are not eligible for the prizes.
- Please do not discuss strategy, suggestions or tips in the comments during a live contest. If you are unsure, email us at codeweavers@infotsav.org.
- You will receive one point for solving a problem (passing all test cases - no partial credit), regardless of the level of difficulty of that problem.
- You can submit solutions as many times as you'd like, there are no penalties for incorrect submissions. Users are ranked according to the most problems solved. Ties will be broken by the total time for each user in ascending order of time.
- Any participant found having fake information regarding qualification criteria or profile information shall be immediately disqualified.
- After the end of the contest, the test cases and the author's solution would be available on the page www.facebook.com/Codeweaver.Infotsav.
- Any sort of malicious activity will lead to immediate disqualification of the participant in question.
- The decision of the organizers in declaring the results will be final and will be binding to all. No queries in this regard will be entertained.
